DEAR FRIENDS,

In 2021, Howard Brown Health not only rose to the occasion in our pandemic response, we laid the groundwork for the coming years. We began construction for our expanded presence in the city on the North and South Sides, launched new clinical programs, built out our clinical and support staff, and updated our mission and vision statements to guide our work into the future.

We have made immense progress to secure continued capacity for accessible and affirming care across the City of Chicago. In the fall, pre-construction began for the expanded Howard Brown Health Halsted location, and Broadway Youth Center welcomed youth into its new five-floor location in Uptown. In July, our partner Pride Action Tank launched a needs assessment to gather community insight for the construction of a future South Side community center that will be anchored by a Howard Brown clinic. We designed each of these initiatives to sustain our communities and respond to their evolving health needs.

Stigma, discrimination, and trauma of all kinds continue to be barriers to the wellbeing of our communities, and responsive LGBTQ+ affirming health systems are key to continued healing and improved health outcomes. Amid the continued COVID-19 pandemic, Howard Brown took steps to expand service lines across the City, including a new OB/GYN program, expanded medical care teams, and greater Patient Access Center capacity.

With the release of Centering Community Care, our strategic plan for 2021-2024, we rooted our new mission and vision in our past commitments to the LGBTQ+ community and elevated our conviction that LGBTQ+ affirming healthcare is necessary. The new mission centers the intersectional identities and needs of our patients, while our vision positions us to continue to adapt and address health inequity and systems of oppression.

We step into the future with renewed purpose and the confidence that together we will continue to foster health equity for all. On behalf of the communities we serve, thank you.

Sincerely,

David Ernesto Munar
President and CEO
